General Conference Carries Through Its Full Program At The Chateau Religious Enthusiasm Marks Gathering

The 64th Northfield General Conference ended August 14 after a very successful two-weeks' session in the Chateau. The attendance was relatively small but enthusiasm for this historic religious gathering was never greater and in spite of wartime travel problems, guests registered from as far away as Michigan and the Carolinas.

Sunday services were held in Russell Sage Chapel on the Seminary campus with Dr. Russell Henry Stafford of Old South Church in Boston preaching on August 1 and Dr. Boynton Merrill of the First Congregational Church of Boston on the 8th. The weekday program was carried by Dr. Paul Scherer of New York, well-known radio preacher, and Dr. Harris E. Kirk of Baltimore who has occupied the pulpit of the Franklin St. Presbyterian Church there since 1901. Dr. Stafford is new to Northfield but Dr. Merrill is a Mount Hermon alumnus and a trustee of the Schools while Dr. Kirk and Dr. Scherer have both appeared on the Conference platform over a period of many years. President William E. Park of the Northfield Schools was chairman.

The principal feature of the gathering was a morning lecture period shared by Dr. Scherer and Dr. Kirk. The former spoke each morning from 9:30 to 10:30 on "The Lord's Song in a Strange Land" and the latter from 10:45 to 11:45 on "The Story of Job:—or the Contrary States of the Soul."

Dr. Scherer's series consisted of an exposition of portions of the book of Isaiah, stressing the application of its lessons to the times in which we are living. "Few things play more havoc with religion," he said, "than beginning with facts and arguing to God. It is precisely this attitude which is the error of our time, just as it was in the time of Isaiah. The exiled Jews in Babylon had allowed their idea of God to be so colored by facts of their own existence that they thought their God was whipped when the nation was defeated. They had focused so exclusively on their nation's history that they excluded the vision of a God greater than men or nations. There is the same failure in our time."

Dr. Kirk, too, drew lessons for the world of today from the book of Job. Commenting on suffering in history, he said, "The critics of Job in his suffering used religion for the nonreligious purpose of satisfying their own theories and vanities rather than for helping poor Job. There is too much of the attitude that attempts to equate respectability and prosperity with sound religious standing in the church. The poor are the closest to God, as a rule, for they offer nothing but their love and their own selves."

Both speakers presented illustrated evening lectures before large audiences of registered delegates and townspeople. Dr. Kirk's lecture was entitled, "Inventions of the Book of Job" and was illustrated by slides made from William Blake's book of that name. Blake was an 18th Century poet, philosopher, and artist, who identified his own life with the life of Job, and the book is, in a sense, a combination of history, philosophy, biography, and allegory, exquisitely illustrated by some of the most beautiful engravings in existence. The lecture was in the nature of a supplement to Dr. Kirk's morning series.

Dr. Scherer's three lectures were on, "Rome," "Naples and Pompeii," and "The Crusades." The first two were based on the speaker's own travels and illustrated with photographs he made on his many trips abroad. The third was an interpretation of the historical significance of those Christian treks to the birthplace of Christianity during the Middle Ages.

The organist at the Sunday services was Mr. Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu of Mount Hermon and the soloists were Mr. Albert R. Raymond of Wellesley, a part time member of the Mount Hermon faculty, and Mrs. Raymond. Through the cooperation of the Rev. Edward W. Ohrenstein of Greenfield, several conference delegates conducted the morning radio devotional period over Station WHAI. Those who performed this service were Rev. Willard I. Hackenberg of Detroit, Rev. James A. Jones of Charlotte, N. C., and Rev. David A. Pitt of Woodstock, Conn. The latter announced the formation of a committee of conference guests to promote the interests of the conference. He ap

Must Exchange Gas Books Immediately

In order to halt the use of invalid coupons from expired "B" and "C" books, and to make use of any counterfeit coupons which may be in circulation, the Office of Price Administration has announced that after September 1st, the new style "B" and "C" books only will be used.

Motorists who have made renewals since July 9th to the local board have been issued the new style coupons, but any whose renewals were previous to that, and which do not expire until after September 1 are requested to exchange their old books for one of the new style on or after August 23, either in person or by mail. Expiration dates and number of stamps will remain the same.

Mrs. Myrtle E. Putnam

Mrs. Myrtle E. (Rawson) Putnam, 70, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday morning, August 14 at her home on the Ashuelot road. Mrs. Putnam was born July 18, 1873, the daughter of Isaac W. and Lucy A. (Fuller) Rawson in Westmoreland, N. H. She was married 49 years ago to James A. Putnam and has lived in Canaan, Conn., and Pittsfield coming here to live about 10 years ago. She was an attendant at the Unitarian church and a member of the Woman's Alliance.

She is survived by her husband; three children, Frank A. Putnam of East Greenwich, R. I.; Ralph E. Putnam of Pittsfield and Mrs. Harold Bigelow of this town; also six grandchildren and a half brother, Wilson Rawson of Greenfield.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Kidder's Funeral parlor with Rev. Arthur Heeb of the Unitarian church officiating. Burial was in the Barber district cemetery.

Junior Guard Is Busy

Members of the Junior company of the State Guard here, held an alert test recently and the boys are reported to have played well their part. From the home of Mrs. Merrill a message went to Sgt. William Ross, that a man was seen prowling about her house, presumed to be digging and flashing in code. The Sgt. summoned the troop and they guarded the place and set up investigation. A post system was established and kept up until late in the evening when the company was dismissed and the boys returned to their homes. Now the boys are ready for another "alert" and so if you find a booby man about your homeland, call out the Junior Guard and they will clean up for safety.

Must Save Waste Paper

The War Production Board of Washington announces that the paper situation is critical and that a drive will soon take place to collect all types of waste paper. All citizens are urged to save all paper of every kind and to bundle it for convenience in handling. Paper bags, corrugated cardboard, newspapers, books and magazines are wanted. Accumulate it in good sized amount and call your committee and arrangements will be made for its collection soon. It is quite likely that the Boy Scout troops throughout the state will have a part in the work.

WCTU To Picnic

Members of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. L. H. Laselle on Wednesday afternoon August 25, at 3 o'clock. After the regular business session and a program for the meeting, there will follow a picnic supper and members will bring their box lunch. All are invited to attend this interesting meeting.

pealed to churches in the vicinity to send their ministers and announced that he was planning to request his own church to make a substantial gift to Northfield next year for conference purposes. The following from Northfield and vicinity were registered: Miss Ellen C. Bolton, the Reverend Edward C. Dahl, Dr. Edward Fairbank, Robert Bonner Jack, Mrs. L. B. LaBella, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moody, Miss Ethel M. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dudley Peck, Miss Eleanor Peck, Mrs. N. Fay Smith, Richard L. Watson of Northfield, and Rev. Elvin W. Blackstone of South Vernon.

The Ridge Association Holds Annual Meeting Elects Year's Officials

The annual business meeting of the Rustic Ridge Association, followed by a social hour was held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth McIntire on East Lane, Tuesday afternoon, August 17 at 3 o'clock. A large attendance of members completely filled the house and veranda and many sat outside on the spacious lawn. Mrs. McIntire and her sister Miss Livingston greeted all arrivals and later served refreshments. At the business session President Dr. A. L. Berger presided and W. C. Atkins acted as Secretary pro tem.

The President read his report filled with glowing prophecies and the results of a vigorous administration. The applause which it received was a demonstration of approval. Then came a presentation of a memorial, offered by Dr. David O. Cowles, to the memory of those who have passed within the year, and also an expression of sympathy and love to those who are sick and suffer, unable to be present. The various committees rendered reports which indicated that each were working co-operatively to further the interests of the organization. There was considerable discussion, in optimistic mood and no criticism. Improvements were considered for the Ridge and its colony of summer residents and a recounting of past efforts were most gratifying.

In memory of the late Dr. C. C. Woodruff, former President, it was unanimously voted that the selectmen be petitioned to name the new town road, traversing the section from north to south be called Woodruff Highway. The extension of electric service, the matter of street lighting, the securing of mail delivery and a swimming pool were all considered.

The election was presided over by Albert G. Moody and resulted in the election of Dr. A. L. Berger, President; Dr. W. H. Bollman, vice-president; Rev. W. H. Desjardins, treasurer; Mrs. Robert P. Aylesworth, recording secretary and Miss Therese Simar, corresponding secretary.

William F. Hoehn was named as the representative of the Ridge Association.

Committees were named as follows:—Hospitality: Mrs. W. H. Bollman, chairman; Mrs. Walter Chapin, Mrs. R. A. Heydenrich and Miss Virginia McLeod; Mosquito Prevention, Mrs. Edna Jenkins, chairman; Mrs. C. F. Ohlandt, Charles Cregar and Miss Louise Roe; Milk Committee, Miss Alice Pedley, Mrs. W. H. Doremus; Necrology, Dr. David O. Cowles, chairman; Mrs. Charles S. Cregar, Miss Mable Livingstone and Dr. J. L. Peacock; Road, T. C. Duncan, chairman; George W. Carr, W. C. Atkins, Rev. A. C. Ackerman, Rev. Robert A. Heydenrich, Howard S. Harris and Dr. Walter Chapin; Social, Miss Ruth Card, chairman; Miss Maud Curtis, Miss Gertrude Lauber, Miss Lucy Keith, Miss Martha Bollerman, Miss Ruth Johnson, C. L'Hommiedieu and Emil Calvacca; Tree Committee, Dr. Parker B. Holloway, chairman; Rev. William Deissler, Mrs. J. F. Schmiedecher, Dr. Elizabeth McIntire and F. C. Harmon; Waste Removal, Mrs. C. W. Wright, chairman; Miss Josephine Moody and Mrs. William Voorhies; Road Signs and Directory, Charles Cregar, chairman; Charles F. Ohlandt and Parker B. Holloway, Jr.

Gunn - Deming

Miss Jean Gunn of Kansas City, Mo., daughter of Mrs. Hattie Gunn of Princeton, Kansas, and T-5 Grove W. Deming Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Grove W. Deming of Mount Hermon, were married on Sunday, Aug. 1, at 4 P. M. at Princeton, Kan. The bride's maid was a cousin of the bride while the bride's brother acted as best man.

The bride was attired in a light blue, street length dress with navy blue accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias and roses. After a reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The groom has just completed a course in radio at Fort Benning, Ga. and on Aug. 12 returned to his company at Camp Gordon, Ga.

It is reported that recently, some dog or dogs, ran wild among the sheep on the farm of Hermon Fisher, on the South Mountain Road, and killed four of them and a lamb. A watch was kept for a return of the dogs by a guard with a loaded gun but evidently they have not made a return appearance. Mr. Fisher will be reimbursed for his loss by the state.

Social And Sale Was Popular Event At Green Pastures

Thursday afternoon from three to six o'clock there was another of those popular social events at Green Pastures, the residence of A. P. Fitt on Main Street by the Servicemen's committee. A sale was conducted of many fancy articles suitable for gifts, an assortment of food and some children's clothing. Refreshments were also sold.

From four to five, a program of music was given by the Hotel Trio, from the veranda of the house, under the direction of Miss Churchill. The town Honor Roll, giving a list of all those who have entered the service was displayed and it's number is approaching 200.

There was a good attendance, many mothers, wives and relatives of service men in attendance who mingled with summer visitors and local residents. All monies received will go into the fund to remember servicemen at Christmas time and it is hoped to publish another special Northfield greeting card.

Court Will Decide It

When a campaign was conducted for the endowment funds of the Northfield schools some years ago, Henry R. Hunting of Springfield subscribed $100,000. He was much interested in the schools and was a successful business man. Of this amount $25,000 had been paid and with his death there remained a balance of $75,000, which his executors refuse to pay. His executors are Frank S. Hatch of Longmeadow and Raymond A. Bidwell of Springfield. The case will go to the Superior Court for decision in the matter and Stoddard, Ball and Bartlett represent the schools.

TOWN TOPICS

Mrs. Adele Ropes of Coral Gables, Florida, is occupying the small cottage of Mrs. Howard of Highland Ave. this month. She is accompanied by her sisters.

Miss Sarah Smith, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Powell left for her home at Grand Rapids, Mich., this week.

The Virginia Camp Board of Managers held a meeting at the Homestead with Mrs. William R. Moody on Monday. We hope to be able to publish an account soon of the activities of the camp this season.

Mrs. Cleland Cochrane of Main Street with her children, Cleland, Jean and Brenda have gone to Maine to enjoy a brief vacation. Franklin County chapter of the Red Cross reports that the women of the county during the past year have made 1,175,040 surgical dressings. These have already been shipped to the various service storehouses.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Smolen have returned from a week's vacation spent at Hampton Beach, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt C. Skilton are spending the week at Rockport, Mass., for their vacation. President William E. Park of the Northfield Schools will be the preacher this Sunday, August 22, at the First Church of Christ Congregationalist, in Pittsfield. Dr. Park will also speak in the afternoon of that day in Amherst, at 4:45 p.m.

Mrs. Harry T. Dayton of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been a visitor in town for some time, at the hotel, died Saturday, August 14th. Her body was taken to her home for funeral service and burial.

Members of the American Standard Bible Committee are holding a two week session at the Northfield Hotel.

There will be a meeting of the Northfield Civilian Council and heads of all services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hoehn this Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Richard Orr, who has been visiting here at his home for a short time has returned to his camp in Mississippi.

The cottage of Mrs. J. M. Lent of Providence, advertised in the Press recently has been sold to Rev. Thomas W. Kidd of the Congregational Christian church of Fall River.

Miss Louise Roe of Newton is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Bertha La'Hommiedieu of Philadelphia at her summer home in Pine Grove on the Ridge.

Thomas G. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Parker of Main Street is an aviation cadet and is taking his final flight training at Lubbock field of the army in Texas. Upon completion he will be made a flying officer of the Air force.

"OWNEREMPLOYEECUSTOMER"

That's not just a hodge-podge of letters!

It is telescoping three good American words into one to describe a typical man who works for your electric company.

Can you think of a better word to describe this man?

He owns a few shares of electric company stock and expects a fair return on his investment.

He is an employee interested in doing a good job, making a good living, and getting ahead in the world.

He is a customer who is interested in top-notch electric service at low rates.

The fact that he is all of these things rolled into one is a result of living and working the American way—the way of free enterprise and equal opportunity—the way that has made America invincible in war!

It does indeed make him an "owneremployee-customer".

WHY NOT JUST SAY HE'S A TYPICAL CITIZEN OF A FREE COUNTRY!

Your electric company is a good example of how the American free enterprise system works... to the advantage of all. It is owned by the people... more than 10,000 of them, none holding more than 2 1/2% of the shares. It is operated by about a thousand employees, (less right now) all of whom are customers of the company and many of whom are owners as well.

Western Massachusetts Electric Company

ELECTRICITY IS THE LIFE-BLOOD OF WAR PRODUCTION—DON'T WASTE IT!

David Earnshaw of Springfield is visiting at the home of Mrs. Louise B. LaBella on the Ridge. He is a grandson of the late Edward Bellamy, the author of "Looking Backward" and is an organist by profession.

Friends of Mrs. Harriet Bruce and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Bruce, of Locust Valley, N. Y., who have been at their cottage on the Ridge, will learn with deep regret that they are both very ill and were removed to the Brattleboro Memorial hospital for medical care and treatment. Mrs. Bruce has been in poor health for some time and her daughter has suffered a collapse in a heart attack, with the strain of caring for her.

Rev. Henry T. McKnight of New Haven, Conn., has purchased the former Reynolds property in the Pine Grove section for a summer home.

At the Ridge meeting on Tuesday, two young ladies, the daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Bollman and of Rev. and Mrs. Holloway, entertained with a pleasing duet.

Directors of the Three-county Fair at Northampton will hold their annual exhibition at the Northampton Fair grounds, pending on Labor Day, Sept. 6.

Boy... don't you wish we could get in the fight, too?

GET IN THE FIGHT!

My pop says all us kids can get in the fight by just keeping off the telephone unless it's important. He says it lets war calls come first.

Know Massachusetts

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .
Sales of war savings bonds and stamps in Massachusetts during the two fiscal years ending June 1942 and 1943 amounted to $421,
308,000 of Series E bonds, $319, 198,000 of Series F and G, and $41,355,000 of war savings stamps, making a total of $781, 861,000 in these three types of issues. Sales in 1943 were 60 per cent larger than in 1942. . . . At the end of 1939, Massachusetts was providing hospitalization in institutions for mental diseases for 27,632 patients, which was more than in any other state except
New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois
and California. Of the Massachusetts total, 25,084 were in State hospitals; 2,028 in veterans' hospitals and 520 in private hospitals.
First recorded studies of chlorination in water purification were made in Boston and several other cities in 1906. Pioneer work in developing the slow sand filter for water purification was done as early as 1888 at the Lawrence Experiment Station under the direction of the late Allen Hazen. . . .

Streets in Boston were not officially named and recorded until 1708, seventy-eight years after the first settlement. As early as 1636, however, an ordinance was passed to prevent encroachment of buildings upon the streets and lanes established. . . . Victory gardeners undoubtedly can take much of the credit for the drop of 4 per cent during July in the food item of the cost of living index. . . . Massachusetts' allotment of the Federal Government fund for planning of highway development after the war will be $670,583, if matched by an equal appropriation by the State.

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .
Ten important Massachusetts industries which made the biggest increase in employees during 1919, the first post-war year after the November 1918 Armistice, were house furnishings which averaged 187 per cent more in 1919 than in 1918, lumber and timber products which gained 128 per cent, marble and stone work 53 per cent, window shades and fixtures
48 per cent, musical instruments 44 per cent, confectionery 38 per cent, iron and steel forgings 37 per cent, sporting and athletic goods 33 per cent, leather manufacture 34 per cent, silk and silk goods 32 per cent. . . . The new amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act in Massachusetts, which greatly expands the requirements for such insurance and also permits employers to self-insure their obligations, will become effective November 15. . . .
Between March 1940 and March 1943 the number of wage earners employed in Massachusetts factories increased by approximately 212,000, of which the woolen and worsted industry took 18,409, foundries and machine shops 14, 700, cotton textile mills 12,300, rubber footwear 4,400, and silk and rayon manufacture 2,000. . . .
Electric power consumption in Massachusetts during June this year amounted to 465,974,000 kilowatt hours, the biggest June consumption on record. . . . The Town of Hatfield at a special town meeting July 23 authorized the Selectmen to act as a town planning body until such a body is established.
